Londonderry has been deeply agitated for some time past in consequenof the Church discatablishment legislation of the Gladstone ministry. The city was regarded as the stronghold of the ultra High Church party since the moment of the defeat of the last of the Stuarts by William, Prince of Orange. The members of a "loyalist" family enjoyed many hereditary church sinecures and cathedral and municipal charter emoluments, which are all swept away by the recent action of the Pariliment. He refers to many historical precedent to show that severities after a war do not serve to save or perpetuate a power; in short, he says, if there be one lesson written all over the face of history, it seems "Pride goeth before that the conqueror in a civil fend, who has glutted his vengeance, stands often very near his final disappointed.

subscribers to our Tri-Weekly as well as our tion will be printed, an excellent opportucreased charge, before a larger number of readers probably than is addressed by any other single newspaper in the South.

Newsmen will please send in their of

The Winnsboro' News, a somewhat ec centric but decidedly independent paper says that the bill to pay the interest on the State debt in coin "is a good bill, even if bad "men make money out of it, because, con-'sidered in one aspect alone, it saves over $400,000 during the next two years to the "State." This is a good reason, indeed, for apporting a Radical measure, but we confess our belief that this time it is our Winnsboro' contemporary which is "going off half-"cocked," instead of THE CHARLESTON News, which opposed the bill as unwise, unnecessary and unjust.

The Winnsboro' News supports its broad assertions by this ingenious arithmetical demonstration:

"The State must, by the sale of its bonds at present prices, 65 on the 100, Issue bonds t the extent of over $1,200,000, to meet its stocks and bonds to the amount of $800,000 that must be paid in 1870 and 1871. Now, a bond bearing coin interest at four and a half per cent. so that $800,000 of such four and a half per cent, coin-interest bonds would meet the deb immediately pressing. The annual interest or $800,000, in coin, at four and a half per cent. would be $36,000, whereas the annual interest at six per cent on $1,200,000, would b $72,000 in currency. A saving, then, results of over $400,000 on the principal, and of at least $25,000 in currency in annual interest."

Of course, if it be admitted that four and a balf per cent, coin interest bonds of the State of South Carolina will command par and, that unless such bonds be issued, the State must emit currency bonds and sell them at 65 cents, there will be the precise result which our contemporary indicates. But we cannot admit either premise. The State debt spoken of is due partly in 1870 and partly in 1871. When it becomes due the holders will demand the repayment of the principal, but that principal will be payable under the legal tenderact, in currency and not in coin. Admitting, however, that it must be paid in coin, two modes of action are open to the State: 1, to offer to renew the loan, and 2, to sell securities to pay it off. In the first case, the State can offer coin bonds to the holders of the debt and may tempt them to renew; in the second case, it can sell coin bonds in the market and clear off its accrued indebtedness. Either way the to the fact that the whole State debt was payable, principal or interest, in coin. There some alive, using hymn books for feet.

—Letters from Texas say that the tide of immissional policy is no connection whatever between the swindling job of making the interest on the present debt payable in coin, and a proper endeavor to use the credit of the State to the best advantage when renewing or paying off a debt as it becomes due. We do not admit that a South Carolina four and a half per cent. coin loan could be floated at par, for the simple reason that United States six per cent. coin bonds bring but there is nothing in the arguments or the arithmetic of our Winnsboro' neighbor to cause us to change our opinion that the coin bill will not benefit the State, although it may enable Kimpton and Scott to sell to advantage the $3,000,000 State bonds hypothecated by them in New York, for what purpose the Ring only knows.

Making Ready for a Christmas Frolic

We beg to make our humble apologies to the members of the South Carolina General Assembly for having so misconstrued a private telegram as to publish in THE NEWS of yesterday the startling intelligence that the Legislature had agreed "to take no per diem from December 23 to January 5." It is unpleasant to slander, however innocently, a body of patriots, many of whom left their native country for their country's good, and who now

However, we take it all back, and beg to inform our readers that the Legislature, instead of drawing no pay during recess, have drawn pay in advance up to the end of the recess, which is a very different matter, and thoroughly in accord with our previous expectations. We had a faint and wandering hope of better things, but we feel now that only he who hopes for nothing is never

COMBINED.

First. It does not disarrange the Shirt Rosom. Second. It cannot slip off the shoulders. Third. There is less strain on the buttons of the pants than with common Suspenders. Fourth. Each section of the pants can be adjusted independently. Fifth. By means of the Adjustible Back Strap a genile or powerful brace can be obtained. Sixth. It attaches to the pants at the same points that the ordinary Suspender does.
